

Your Startup's Orchestration Stage

at Asia's Largest HR & Work Tech Conference

6-7 August '26,
Yashobhoomi Convention Center, New Delhi
Conference & Exhibition | Investor & Mentor Meetings | Night Fest

Exclusively for Emerging Companies:

TechHR Startup Program 2026

The future of work will not be built by technology alone. It will be orchestrated by leaders who blend innovation with empathy, scale with purpose, and growth with a distinctly human edge.

The People Matters Startup Program opens the doors to Asia's largest congregation of startups, VCs, investors, and work-tech visionaries — not just to showcase innovation, but to shape the legacy of leadership that will define the next decade.

Over 1300+ startups have already stepped onto this stage — stress-testing ideas, forging strategic alliances, and engaging directly with the HR and business leaders who influence the future of work. But this is more than a pitch platform. It is a proving ground for solutions that elevate people, performance, and possibility.

India continues to stand at the forefront of technological acceleration, especially in HR and work tech. Yet as AI reshapes workflows, leadership expectations evolve, talent markets tighten, and cost pressures intensify, one truth is becoming clear:

Growth without a human edge is fragile. Innovation without purpose is forgettable.

The coming decade belongs to those who can orchestrate both.

In 2026 and beyond, organizations are not just seeking efficiency. They are seeking meaning. They need technologies that enable leaders to build future-ready capabilities, cultivate resilient cultures, and unlock sustainable performance. This is where HR and work-tech startups play a pivotal role.

Armed with bold thinking and breakthrough solutions, startups have the power to transform disruption into direction. But to truly lead the legacy and drive the future, they must deeply understand the lived realities of HR and business leaders — and engage directly with the decision-makers shaping tomorrow's workforce.

The People Matters TechHR Startup Program exists to enable exactly this:

- To create a powerful ecosystem where innovation meets impact
- To equip emerging startups with strategic insight, real-world feedback, and growth pathways
- To connect them with leaders who are orchestrating transformation across Asia

Because the future of work will not be inherited. It will be designed — intentionally, collaboratively, and with a human edge.

If you are building what's next, this is where your legacy begins.
